The Advanced Leadership program is a meticulously designed and targeted training endeavor crafted to elevate the leadership proficiencies and competencies of mid-level managers.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The IUM Advanced Leadership Program is a structured and focused training initiative designed to enhance the leadership skills and capabilities of individuals in mid-level management positions. This program aims to prepare middle managers to effectively lead teams, make strategic and innovative decisions, foster a positive work environment, and align their actions with the organization's goals, in a rapidly evolving business setting. It is tailored to meet the specific leadership needs and objectives of both the participants and the organization. The ultimate goal of such a program is to empower middle managers to drive organizational success and contribute to long-term leadership development within the company, by being agile, data-driven, ethically responsible, and capable of making informed decisions in an environment characterized by uncertainty and rapid change.

PROF. DANIELE PERCHIAZZI

Daniele Perchiazzi is an Adjunct Professor of Leadership at IUM.

He is also an experienced Corporate Trainer, Executive Coach, and Psychometric Expert, with over a decade of experience working with executives at the highest levels of leadership. Daniele has worked across diverse industries, including automotive, luxury retail, and finance, and has a strong track record of success in strategic leadership transformation, conflict resolution, team cohesion, and enhancing customer experience.

He has worked with mid-senior management of globally recognised organisations across different industries and has worked in 4 continents and over 20 countries. Drawing on his expertise in psychometric tools, Daniele advocates for leveraging psychological insights to empower individuals, motivate teams, and navigate complex leadership scenarios effectively.

By integrating psychometric assessments into leadership development initiatives, Daniele helps leaders gain a deeper understanding of their strengths and areas for improvement, enabling them to make informed decisions and drive meaningful change within their organisations.

Daniele Perchiazzi can help participants in the program to understand their leadership style and how it is perceived by others, and to develop greater awareness about it. He can also provide actionable tools for energising individuals and empowering high-performing teams and help participants to explore the core principles of psychological influence, negotiation, and motivation of others. Additionally, he can assist participants in delivering feedback, managing conflict, and handling stressful leadership situations, and help them to cultivate an adaptable mindset and encourage innovation.
